

Behaviour & Attendance Student Cards

A reward program for students to learn, grow and see success

Your Dream Behaviour and Attendance cards is a simple program for chaplains and workers to use in their local school for students. This program is to help students to learn, grow and see success.

Students can do an array of things in order to achieve the points, for example, for a behaviour card the student could perform an act of kindness for a fellow student or even display great behaviour in the classroom. For an attendance card, the student could show a great attendance record for school or for attending a SPARC or JUMP session, that the worker could be running in their school. Once the student has achieved all the points on the card, they will receive a certificate from the worker. A generic template is given to the worker when the package is purchased. This certificates sole purpose is to be presented to the student for achieving the points. If you have permission from your oversight and principal, think of giving this out during school assembly. This is an achievement and an uplifting moment for the student. These cards are to be kept and held onto by the worker, not to be given to the student to hold onto. Have it in a safe spot or somewhere with easy access for you to note and mark off the point achieved. Reward systems like this are used in array of schools and used by teachers, so we know that implementing this either into a school program or making it available for workers is going to make an impact on students behaviour and attendance.
